Camping is one of the most enjoyable activities we can provide to our young people, especially our Pathfinders.

Anytime we take a group out camping, we have to be extremely careful because parents entrust us with their kids' lives. The lives and health of these young people can never be replaced.

These young people are the future of the church. Pathfinder staff and older Pathfinders must protect the younger Pathfinders from harm and also incorporate fun and spiritual growth into the activities. The leadership should know how to maintain necessary health, safety and sanitary conditions without neglecting opportunities for fun and high adventure.

Outdoor benefits prove rather ineffectual if the Pathfinder returns home with a cold, earache, bad sunburn, poison ivy, upset stomach, cut foot, or sprained ankle. A camping experience can destroy forever a Pathfinder's interest in the outdoors, the church, or even a relationship with God just as easily and as effectively as it can foster and build them up. Look at an overnight camp not as a test of endurance but as a test of unique living situations in which campers, counselors, and staff can, through skill, knowledge, and teamwork adapt to primitive conditions sanely, safely, healthfully, and in the spirit of fun and adventure.

The Pathfinder Camp Safety Honor was developed by Adventist Risk Management, Inc. in 2008 and introduced at the 2009 International Pathfinder Camporee in Oshkosh, Wisconsin. The purpose of this honor is not to teach Pathfinders their basic camping skills—it is to train them in how to recognize unsafe acts and conditions that can occur when camping.

“Safety Through Skill” should be our motto whenever Pathfinders are camping.

CAMPSITE SAFETY INSPECTION

SUGGESTED TEACHING OUTLINE

Plan to teach the Pathfinder Camp Safety Honor over several weeks, preferably 6 to 8 weeks prior to a campout or Conference Camporee.

Go over one or two safety elements in each training session so they learn the principles.

Use video training resources to illustrate the course principles wherever possible.

Provide actual medical supplies to give the Pathfinders experience in building their own First Aid kits.

Have the Pathfinder demonstrate they can safely handle knives, axes, and hatchets.

Set up a “bad campsite” before the final teaching session so Pathfinders can practice using the Campsite Inspection form.

Conduct a final review and test knowledge.

Have the Pathfinder do actual campsite inspections during a campout or camporee to complete the requirements.
