EXECUTIVE RISK PROTECTION

Life is full of risks and serving in a leadership position comes with its own occupational exposures. These risks might include financial, personnel, or legal situations. It's important to ensure that you and your leadership team are protected from risks inside and outside the company. The Federal Insurance Company provides Executive Risk Protection for the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventist and its affiliated and subsidiary organizations.

The General Conference of Seventh-day Adventist Executive Risk policy is designed to protect:

- your directors and officers,
- administrators responsible for fiduciary activities,
- employers subject to criminal acts,
- individuals who serve on outside boards

Here is a brief summary of the coverage included:

Directors and Officers coverage is intended to protect directors and officers from claims which may arise from the decisions and actions taken when they are acting as company executives. Insured persons under this coverage section include current, future and past directors and officers of the General Conference and affiliated organizations.

Crime Coverage is designed to protect the direct financial loss suffered by your organization arising from employee fraud including but not limited to money, securities and funds transfer fraud and/or a dishonest act of a third party.

Outside Directorship Liability protects you and your employees' while participating on the boards of outside organizations if officially authorized to serve on those boards by your organization.

Fiduciary Liability coverage protects an individual or entity acting in a fiduciary role who was alleged to be held personally liable for losses to a benefit plan incurred as a result of their errors, omissions, or breach of their fiduciary duties.

This is only a brief summary of the coverages provided. There are limits, deductibles, policy terms and conditions shown on the policy. All claims are subject to the policy language. For more information, contact your account executive.
